

Aruba Marriott Resort and Stellaris Casino

Hotel Rating: 4 Star

Overview

Aruba's west coast

Located along Palm Beach on the west coast of Aruba, this resort boasts a full array of watersports, and one of the island's largest casinos.

Spacious rooms

Big sun-filled guestrooms feature colorful designs and views of the island, sea, or gardens.

Water fun

Enjoy snorkeling and sailing, sculpting sandcastles on the beach, or playing in the pool with a waterfall and swim-up bar.

What to Expect: Popular with families and couples, the resort features a sizable atrium lobby with marble and warm-wood trim, chandeliers, potted plants, and cushioned seating as well as an expansive courtyard containing cactus gardens, bamboo stands, palm trees, oversized pottery, and teak benches.

Amenity Highlights: Furnished with thatched shades, a 100-yard-wide, 60-yard-deep section of Palm Beach fronting the resort slopes down to the turquoise sea. The Aruba Marriott Resort's lagoon-style pool features a rock-grotto waterfall that bends around a pool bar containing a swim-up counter. On the other side of the rock formation is a nine-person free-form spa tub. The pool's sundeck is furnished with cushioned lounge chairs. On the beach are both a windsurfing center and a watersports center.

Insider Tip: Connected by a covered walkway to this resort, a companion resort, Marriott's Aruba Ocean Club, offers hotel guests a Balinese-style health spa featuring couples rooms with two-person spa tubs and a private relaxation garden with cushioned lounges.
