

Caribe Hilton & Condado Lagoon Villas

 Hotel Rating: 4 Star

Overview

Old San Juan nearby

Occupying a 17-acre peninsula a half mile from Old San Juan, this resort offers a three-level pool, a crescent beach, and seven restaurants.

TV, video games

Guestrooms feature patios or balconies, and televisions with pay movies and video games.

Complimentary activities

Children enjoy complimentary activities, playgrounds, video-game room, and a seasonal kids' camp. A health spa pampers adults.

What to Expect: Set between the Atlantic Ocean and a large lagoon that forms the inland boundary of the fashionable Condado resort/condo community, the Caribe Hilton attracts couples and families seeking a beach-and-pool vacation with accommodations close to Old San Juan's historic attractions that begin a half-mile away. The hotel's seven restaurants draw locals as well as hotel guests for dinner.

Amenity Highlights: An enormous, three-level pool includes infinity edges on the top two levels and a swim-up bar. Surrounding sundecks are dotted with cushioned lounge chairs. Other sunbathing areas include a round deck jutting into a swimming cove formed by an artificial reef off a 200-yard crescent beach, and an expansive sand area extending from the beach and featuring a palm tree grove shading lounge chairs. Next to the cove, a 300-yard promenade runs along a rock shore forming part of the peninsula the resort occupies. On the peninsula's tip, a 100-foot pier provides a panoramic view of the San Juan metropolitan area's lights after dark.

Insider Tip: On August 15, 1954, an inventive Caribe Hilton bartender poured the world's first piña colada.
