

CuisinArt Resort & Spa

 Hotel Rating: 5 Star

Overview

Romantic rendezvous

Inspired by the architecture of the Greek island, Mykonos, this dazzling white resort is located on Rendezvous Bay, rimmed by a white, sugar-sand beach.

Ocean-view balconies

93 rooms with ocean-view balconies or patios; extra-large guestrooms, suites, and penthouses occupy buildings draped by bougainvillea.

Extraordinary dining

An infinity-edge pool, two exceptional restaurants, cooking demonstrations, hydroponic greenhouse, and a sophisticated spa are among this resort's many delights.

What to Expect: Sharing ownership and name with the international kitchenware company, the resort capitalizes the "A" (CuisinArt) to highlight its emphasis of food and cooking. It contains its own 18,000-square-foot hydroponic vegetable greenhouse and an orchard, provides cooking demonstrations, offers cooking classes, and features exceptional fare at its two restaurants. Densely planted, the resort's grounds include fields of decorative grasses, flowering hedges, palms and beach greenery. Large blue pots hold plants and flowers in and around buildings.

Amenity Highlights: The lobby of the CuisinArt Resort & Spa frames a postcard vista. Looming in the foreground is a large swimming pool featuring an infinity edge surrounded by a terra-cotta tile sundeck, white umbrellas, and blue wrought-iron lounge chairs with butter-yellow cushions. Next comes a series of reflecting pools terraced down a gently sloping lawn and punctuated at the end by a broad white umbrella shading a beach bar. Beyond are the turquoise Caribbean Sea and the mountains of neighboring Saint Maarten/St. Martin. The beach is a two-mile stretch of sand fine as sugar and nearly as white rimming Rendezvous Bay. Lounge chairs and white umbrellas await sunbathers.

Insider Tip: Because plantings are laid out in a "ribbon" system winding through the resort's 20 acres, strolling is rewarded by encounters with dramatic and fragrant lanes and passages.

Dining

Santorini

The resort's main restaurant provides indoor and outdoor seating overlooking the pool and the Caribbean Sea beyond. Rattan chairs, white linens, and ceiling fans create a relaxed ambiance. (Men are asked to wear collared shirts and long pants or dress shorts at dinner.) All guests have the option of a complimentary Continental breakfast served each morning on Santorini's terrace or in their rooms, and can purchase other items from an à la carte menu featuring West Indian choices such as salt fish with ackee and chicken hash, in addition to American breakfast selections. Lunch offers vegetables and salads from the resort's hydroponic greenhouse.

Azure Beach Bar

Lined with plants and flowers in large blue pots, this spot under a white canopy next to the pool serves lunches including brick-oven pizza, salads such as tandoori chicken and niçoise, vegetarian choices from the hydroponic greenhouse, pastas, Mediterranean-style stir-fry dishes, sandwiches such as grilled veal and grilled lamb, and beef and turkey burgers.

Lobby Bar

Flanked by terraced waterfalls, the bar serves tropical drinks under a broad white umbrella.

Recreation

The CuisinArt Resort & Spa includes three lighted artificial grass-and-sand tennis courts, a championship croquet lawn, a basketball hoop, and two artificial-grass bocce courts. A jogging path equipped with exercise stations winds through the grounds. A fitness trainer leads complimentary daily activities such as beach power walks, "millennium stretching," and aquatic kickboxing, as well as conducting yoga and introductory Pilates classes in a weathered-wood thatch-roof pavilion.

Use of snorkeling gear, kayaks, windsurfers, and Sunfish and Hobie Cat sailboats is complimentary.
